Paving the Road from Recovery to Work

• What is ‘recovery’?
• What does it take to sustain recovery?
• What does it take to enter/re-enter the workforce?
• How can we help individuals sustain their recovery?

Three different perspectives on the needs
• An employer
  Patrick Farrell
• Service providers

Recovery ecosystem is a complex linkage of multiple sectors designed to help individuals in recovery get the support services and training they need to maintain recovery and successfully re-enter the workforce. The recovery ecosystem helps strengthen programs that are designed to reduce employment barriers and increase workforce participation.
What services does your community have to support people in recovery?

What other services or capacities does your community need?

- How do you define your community?
- Services vs. System vs. Ecosystem
- Who are the gatekeepers?
- Who do you know that knows somebody?
