

APPALACHIAN TEACHING PROJECT

www.arc.gov/ATP • #ARCATP

Since 2001

a partnership between ARC and East Tennessee State University has cultivated student leadership.

nearly 2,000 students

conduct original community-based research supporting economic development.

from 20 schools across Appalachia organize student research teams for a capstone conference in Washington, D.C.

have participated in the Appalachian Teaching Project

Appalachian Teaching Project 2016

150 students in 14 schools across 11 Appalachian states are participating in the Appalachian Teaching Project this year.

PARTICIPATING SCHOOLS

Alfred State College	Radford University
Appalachian State University	Southeast Kentucky Community and Technical College
Auburn University	University of North Georgia
East Tennessee State University	University of Pittsburgh at Bradford
Fairmont State University	University of Tennessee
Indiana University of Pennsylvania	Zane State College
Mississippi University for Women
Morehead State University	