PROJECT SUMMARY

The Community College of Beaver County (CCBC) will use ARISE funding to address critical workforce gaps in the aviation industry across 20 counties in Appalachian Pennsylvania, North Carolina and South Carolina. In collaboration with workforce boards, flights schools and educational partners, CCBC will develop plans to extend its existing aviation pathway model to train students for in-demand careers as pilots and air traffic controllers.

CCBC and partners bring a combined $323,305 in matching funds to the project, which will result in the development of two plans at the end of the one-year performance period.
